Tata Steel has established a robust Enterprise Risk Management ('ERM') framework to navigate the evolving and volatile business environment to create sustainable value for its stakeholders. This has been developed by integrating best practices from international standards including the Committee of Sponsoring Organisations of the Treadway Commission, ISO 31000:2018 and benchmarking industry practices.

The Risk Management Committee ('RMC') of the Board provides an oversight and guides ERM team on risk management policy and deployment. It reviews the status of key risks, progress of ERM implementation across locations and any exceptions flagged on a quarterly basis.

The Risk Appetite, approved by the RMC, has been developed by analysing industry's best practices and aligns to the vision of the Company. This is an important metric and the guiding principle for management of risks, driven by the following:

- › Health and safety of the employees and the communities in which the Company operates are the prime concern and the operating strategy is focused on this objective.

- › All business decisions are aligned to the Tata Code of Conduct.
- › Management actions are focused on continuous improvement.

The ERM framework is driven across the organisation by the ERM team led by the Chief Risk Officer, who reports to ED & CFO and the RMC Chairperson. The bottom-up ERM process is decentralised to keep the risk ownership with the BUs to drive accountability and ensure agility. This is complemented by a top down process, which helps in identification of strategic enterprise level risks. The ERM team carries out horizon scanning to track the external landscape and organises 'Expert Lens' sessions and webinars for the leadership team and Risk Community to identify emerging risks.

The Company follows coordinated risk assurance through which the ERM process is integrated with Audit, Strategy, Legal & Compliance, and Security functions. Corporate Audit conducts an independent audit of the ERM process deployment across the organisation, as the third line of defence.

Capability development for ERM has been a key focus area across the organisation and various formats of communication & training have been developed, focusing on Risk Champions (Extended arm of ERM Team), risk owners, new joiners and specific functions.

Risk Management has been institutionalised as an additional metric in the performance assessment of Risk Owners and Champions. The Company periodically conducts Risk Maturity Assessments and Risk Culture Survey from independent external assessors to benchmark practices and identify areas of improvement.
